

Kansas City Chiefs Hall of Honor

Situation and Solution

Using today's most advanced technology, the Kansas City Chiefs Hall of Honor offers an interactive museum experience that showcases prized collections from the Kansas City Chiefs and the American Football League. SKC Communications (now AVI-SPL) partnered with Turner Construction to deliver an advanced AV experience that creates an interactive environment and tells the story of this renowned organization.

Results

Outfitted with several interactive touchscreens, the space provides visitors with the ability to access an endless number of statistics and information. A centrally operated Crestron system controls multiple high resolution Daktronics LED videos walls used for digital signage and content viewing.
